You can join the hams Mark, but if you can't pass the exams all you get is cell phones and CB. If I couldn't have passed the exams, that's all I would get too. Radio spectrum is a priviledge, not a right.

Too many lowlife's think they should have a right to the spectrum without having to work for the priviledges. Your goofy ass is one of them.

Well, lucky for you, your CB buddy's and Markie, you dont have to pass an exam to use the internet. If passing a test were required, you and your CB buddy's would only have telephone, snail-mail, and the smoke signals from your burned up linear finals to communicate with each other.

Your license proposal sucks, but it probably sounds good to a drunk. All your proposal does is dumb down licensing standards. You like it because you get all allocations at once with one test. Your proposal is bad because there is no incentive to improve your skills and progress any further after passing the initial exam.

Now pour yourself a few more drinks and mull over this before you pass out you lazy ass drunk, and don't post here again unless you're sober.

The best proposal for amateur radio:

1: No more automatic renewals. Individuals must retest and pass all elements required for their license class.

2: The passing score for written exams needs to be raised to 85%.

3: Code elements should be 13 wpm for General, and 20 wpm for Extra.

4: Make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

4. Is CB like a contest to see who can make their radio sound the most shitty?

That's what it sounds like to me.

If CB'ers had to pass a test, maybe they would understand things like distortion, overmodulation, and splatter.

Are you sure about the battery capacity? Seems very low.

12V 110mAh would power a typical rig on receive for about 15 minutes and on transmit for less than 5 minutes. A 100W rig transmitting at full power would flatten it in seconds.

Hey Peter, for some reason I cant access the uk.cb.radio ng from this isp though years ago using another account I was one of the original posters who petitioned for its formation. How goes it in that ng?
Hopefully a lot better than this once readable ng. Regards, Jim.

Yep, if they would just learn what all those dots and dashes mean, they'd understand all of the above.

1. What is this newsgroup, alt.usenet.kooks (AUK)?

A mass of electrons spread out upon bandwidth scattered across the globe for the express purpose of separating the wheat from the chaff of the net.

2. This is a joke, right? RIGHT?!!

No more a joke than the fact that ISPs let people on every day who have nothing better to do than annoy their neighbors enough to win by popular vote silly little awards created for just such buffoons as them.

3. What's this newsgroup for?

The newsgroup alt.usenet.kooks is for the discovery and discussion of Kooks on Usenet and the Internet. These people are known technically as net.kooks.

4. What's this newsgroup NOT for?

This group exists for recreational Kookology, not for Very Personal Vendetta. It is not to be used for general harassment of someone, or for net abuse such as spamming and flooding and cancelbombing in an attempt to gain vengeance on someone or get the denizens of AUK to shut up. Either way, it won't work, it's very messy, "Bob" will give you triple your money back, and you don't get a life.

Also, we [tinw] are not in the business of harassing the vulnerable or the insane. Occasionally an apparent net.kook proves to be genuinely ill. In such cases the person is disqualified from winning awards and other posters are asked to avoid exarcerbating his or her problems.

Similarly, trolling or kook-hunting in support groups is strongly discouraged.

5. Who let this newsgroup in here, and why wasn't I notified?

That's what you get for hogging the Beer Fund.

(Here you can view the control message that started it all, from our Mighty Founder MAC.)

http://www.netcabal.com/auk/cmsg.html

6. Who is a net.kook?

If you post uniquely strange, preferably incomprehensible articles, or you manifest a persistent, extreme, and somewhat bizarre obsession, you just might be a net.kook. And more.

It is important to note the subtle distinction between a net.kook, a net.cretin, a clueless newbie, troll, or garden-variety @$$hole. The newbie, one hopes, can acquire a clue on the installment plan even if he can't afford to buy one for cash; the cretin is merely stupid and/or irritating; the troll makes a fool out of himself by making a fool out of you, the @$$hole is, well, simply that. But a TRUE net.kook has a special fascination derived from his/her/its utter ineffability. Their behavior is irrational, if not downright weird, but they are seldom merely boring.

It is not considered appropriate to nominate clueless newbies, trolls, or longwinded spambrains as net.kooks. It is acceptable to nominate net.cretins, or simply to present them, without nomination, for whatever minor amusement value they may have; but the real focus here is on net.kooks in all their raging, indomitable glory.

Important Disclaimer: the fact that someone has been proclaimed a net.kook does not imply any psychological diagnosis in and of itself. A net.kook may or may not be clinically insane; that is not the concern of the AUK audience.

We hope.

7. Can you show me a few examples?

I'd rather not, but it may help to clarify things... The person who posted a handful of meaningless, ill-formed newgroup messages on May 21, 1994 was a Clueless Newbie. The person who hung around alt.religion.kibology during April and May 1994, constantly posting boilerplate "warning" messages telling people that ARK messages were intentionally meaningless, was a net.cretin. The people who post demented "scientific" theories, like Archimedes Plutonium's concept of the universe being one giant atom of plutonium, and seem incorrigible to criticism, are moderate net.kooks. The sort of being who constantly raves about the conspiracy against her/him/it is an extreme net.kook, especially if he/she/it automatically assumes that anyone who questions their world-view is an agent of the conspirators or is an ultra right-wing/left-wing extremist, and hides behind an anonymous remailer to avoid "persecution" even though they would get one hell of a lot less of it by not posting at all.

http://www.insurgent.org/~jhd/kookway.htm

8. How do I present a Kook on this group?

The preferred technique is to get the suspected Kook to start posting to AUK so that we can all see him/her/it in all their first-hand Glory. You can do this by posting followups to the suspect's weirder messages, with your followups nonchalantly crossposted to AUK. If the suspect responds to your messages without editing the Newsgroups line, you've achieved your goal.

Another acceptable method is to repost, complete and unedited, one or two of the suspected Kook's recent rants. If you do this, please provide a brief intro in the header describing what the hell you're doing, such as indicating who this person is, what group you found the message on, or why you think the rest of us should give a rat's @$$ about it.

You should be aware that if you try this with some perfectly reasonable posting, you may be flamed to net.hell and back and probably suspected of being a net.loon yourself. It is also considered extremely lame to nominate someone as a Kook simply because you have lost, or at least failed to win, a debate with them; persistently doing so is likely to get you nominated for Kook Awards. That someone fails to perceive the self-evident, unassailable wisdom of your viewpoint does not, in and of itself, constitute Kookery.

9. What are the Kook Awards?

The newsgroup alt.usenet.kooks offers a variety of widely-recognized and highly dubious honors for your service, applying to net.kooks everywhere. They recognize several kinds and many levels of net.kookery.

Here is a detailed list of AUK awards and descriptions.

http://www.netcabal.com/auk/awards.html

10. Who the FSCK appointed YOU net.kookologist/god/nazi etc.

Nobody. We have a Gift.

11. Are there any holidays in AUK?

Why yes, there sure are:

March 30th - CALL to ARMMs

Commemorating the earliest most virulent Kook post flood of Usenet, and the great flamewar that followed in its wake.

June 26th - KOOKS DAY

Named in commemoration of Earl Curley checking into the Motel Deep 6 to serve a major in the pine penalty box, the same date as Edmond Wollmann got arrested riding the San Clemente railway...on his motorcycle.

August 15th - DEAD DOC TAVISH DAY

Named in honor of the death of one of Usenet's most famed identities due to excessive Usenet exposure; his virtual corpse is buried in a rural cemetery near New Bremen, Texas

September 10th - KAZOO DAY

This holiday commemorates Raymond Ronald "Kazoo" Karczewski's conviction for seven felonies. May Raymold be a warning to all kooks who are tempted to think that a "Sovereign Christ" is above the law.

December 20th - AUK BIRTHDAY

The anniversary of the newgrouping of alt.usenet.kooks

12. What should I do if I'm paged on the Red Courtesy Telephone?

Give the caller Gandalf the Gray's speech to the demon. Verbatim.

13. Is alt.usenet.kooks archived anywhere?

Why would you even want to know? [But if you truly must know, GIYF. You masochist, you.]

14. What should we do about the book?

Burn it.

15. Where can I find out more about net.kooks?

Several mini-FAQs on classic kooks of the past and present (along with several non-kooky legendary netters) are available on the World Wide Web in various archives. Be sure to set aside coffee and cats before reading. [Try insurgent.org/kook-faq/]

16. What are the AUK Offices?

As well as the kook awards, kooks may compete to hold office for a month or longer. Nominations are made in exactly the same way as for awards; the difference is that the previous holder of the office always appears on the ballot paper when a new candidate emerges, and the winner remains in office until challenged again. At present, the offices are as follows.

Darth Bawl -

This office is held by Usenet's biggest crybaby.

Village Idiot -

The name says it all.

Kooki Information Minister -

Named in honour of Iraq's Mohammed Saeed al-Sahhaf, this office is held by the kook whose claims are most noticeably at variance with known facts.

Ministry of Circle Jerks -

Although many kooks are lone wolves, a few like to make friends with those who are as delusional as themselves. This office rewards the slurpfests that often ensue.

17. Are there any net.kook awards outside of AUK?

At various points of time there have been several, from the Christian groups' Steebie Award to alt.fan.art-bell's Angstrom Medal. At least two newsgroups, talk.politics.guns and comp.systems.mac.advocacy, have given out their own Kook of the Month awards. Check around from time to time to see what other net.kook awards might be around. [alt.atheism does them, too.]

18. What is the Cabal?

From the beginning of Usenet time, there has been but one force capable of holding it in check to remain in the realm of mortal existence. For today's Usenet world you need a Giant. A Behemoth. A Cabal of IMMENSE PROPORTIONS. A REALLY BIG CABAL to offer all news ORDER.

Within this force is the most ruthless and efficient organization on all Usenet, known as the Cabal Obsidian Order (COO). If YOU wish to know of this entity, read, learn, and do as you will.

SEE THE LIGHT OF COLLECTIVE WISDOM!!!

A. I SAID, what is the CABAL?

There Is No Cabal. Long Live The Cabal.

B. How does the Cabal function??

As well as any apocryphal organization can hope to function.

C. What are the weaknesses of the Cabal?

<chortle> What weaknesses?

D. What is the hierarchy and power structure of the Cabal?

Oh, you don't need to know that. Really. You can trust us, especially when it comes to information you haven't paid for.

E. What is the Cabal Obsidian Order?

The Cabal Obsidian Order (COO) is a profoundly secret collective of operatives designed to outrun, outgun and Eliminate the most vile scum and villainy the net has to offer.

F. How do I know if the COO is responsible for something?

If the COO's operatives are doing their job correctly, they'll be laughing at whoever is actually responsible.

G. Who are the leaders of the COO?

Leaders? Where we function we don't need Leaders.

H. What is the Beer Fund?

The more you contribute to it, the more we will tell you.

I. How may I apply to become an operative of the COO?

Pitiful begging at the Vote Wrangler's feet might help. Then again it might not.

19. Who is the FNVW?

Why, our highly esteemed Friendly Neighbourhood Vote Wrangler (FNVW), whose benevolent supreme dictatorship runs the electoral wheels of our great realm. Seven fearless folk have served, with distinction:

AUK VOTE WRANGLERS

Craig Dickson (1994-1995)
Matthew Legare (1995-1997)
Killfile Daemons (1997)
Robbie Honerkamp (1997-1998)
Phoenix (1997-2004)
Peter J Ross (2004-2006)
Sean Monaghan (2006-Present)

On retirement, Phoenix accepted the high office of Friendly Neighborhood "Bob"father.

20. Do I have what it takes to BE a Vote Wrangler?

<chortle> If you have to ask, you don't have what it takes.

21. Who do you %$#@!s think you are to oppose ME, Lord High Poster-Child of the Macrocosmic Universe?

We are the ones who can and will humiliate your @$$ if you use our group as your personal piss bowl. You are a freak of the universe. You do not give the orders here. And whether you like it or not, the universe is laughing behind your back.

22. That was MEAN, just plain MEAN!!!

Payback's a bitch, ain't it?

23. Should I expect ONE CONSISTENT response to my rude and obnoxious online behavior from the denizens of AUK?

Absolutely NOT.

24. To whom should I complain if I think I have been treated unfairly?

<Darth Vader>
You think you have been treated unfairly? </Darth Vader>

25. What kind of response can I expect as a result of my stupid online behavior at AUK?

Guilty party receives one or a combination thereof of the following assorted reactions (not at all limited to these, mind you):

1. Complete silence while we blow you off
2. Complete silence while we reload
3. Complete silence while we pull the plug on your account
4. Complete silence while we sleep at the switch
5. Complete silence while we sleep in our beds
6. Complete silence while we laugh behind your back
7. Complete silence while we wipe the splattered food and/or drinks off our screens
8. Complete silence while we contemplate the known macrocosmic universe
9. Complete silence while the Vote Wrangler pays good money to watch professional Denver teams find new ways to lose
10. Complete silence while we bask in the pure glow of our obnoxiously self-righteous selves
11. Complete silence while we play high-stakes poker with Snoopy, Spike, Andy, Olaf, Marbles and Woodstock
12. Complete silence while we never notice your NoCeM'd post
13. Complete silence while we never notice your spam-canceled post
14. Complete silence while we run your rude and obnoxious posts through goofyizers for reposting
15. Complete silence while the Trekkies among us watch the USS Defiant blast bad guys' ships into rubble and fly through the debris with that nice halo of sparks effect
16. Complete silence while we wait for our Gates-sponsored software systems to uncrash themselves
17. General laughter at your expense
18. General laughter and pointing at your expense
19. General laughter, pointing and personal insults at your expense
20. Someone exposes your true service provider to the Rabble
21. Someone does any of 1-20 and reports you to your state's Attorney General
22. Someone does any of 1-21 and reports you to the FBI National Computer Crime Squad (nccs@fbi.gov)
23. Someone does any of 1-22 and does highly amusing parodies of you during the entire process
24. Talk amongst ourselves about life, love and why they sell 8-hot-dog weenie sets with 10-bun packages
25. Sounds of awe as we wonder with dropped mouths how you were able to make a greater fool of yourself than you already had
26. Sounds of astonishment as we MARVEL at the FREAK
27. Flames in your generally specific direction
28. Flames of you in the third, fourth and fifth person
29. Flames from the Vote Wrangler from the other side of the Galactic Killfile just to annoy all hell out of you

30. Nominations for many noteworthy Kook awards

26. Can I really be kicked off my ISP for...

Being a total @$$hole?

If you try hard enough.

Top-posting like the pathetic imbecile that I am?

Usually not, but we can always try.

Forging someone else's valid e-mail address?

Absolutely.

Posting multiple copies of the same message to individual news groups (Excessive Multi Posting [EMP])?

Of course. It's the SPAMMING, stupid.

27. Can I really be thrown in jail for posting threatening messages?

Yes. People have been tried and convicted for sending threatening or harassing Email or Usenet posts. We do NOT support censorship of the Internet; however, posting a message stating you are going to cause virtual or unvirtual harm to someone will probably gain you a visit from your Friendly Neighborhood FBI Agent.

28. Fine. I'll just remain anonymous. That'll work, right?

BWWAAAAAAAAA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Try it, pinkboy. An anon remailer service can be forced to turn you in for copyright violation, harassment, stalking; you name the crime - they've got the time. If you ran an anon remailer service what would be the point of protecting flagrant abusers of the net and the Law??

29. Okay, then I'll bust your #$%&$*!! @$$ off AUK instead!

Uh... yeah. Many denizens of AUK are abuse admins, know abuse admins, sleep with abuse admins, or otherwise have years of experience dealing with and educating others about precisely your kind of dubiosity. A good account is a terrible thing to waste, so don't sacrifice yours on our altar.

30. I just realized I am a Maroon. How can I improve my standing in the eyes of the Internet, my balloon doll, and, most importantly, "Bob"?

REPENT. The End is always near.

You would automatically get the highest internet license available as much as you troll. You could probably get a pay check also. But when you fill out your 1040EZ form you will have to list kOOk as your occupation.

So you plan to punish Steveo for what others are posting about him. I may have to move into your group for a while. And I can promise that none of the posts related to me will be football related (even though the Chiefs are going all the way this year).

When you have something technical to add to this group, Maybe you would be taken seriously. You are no better that Mark Morgan who you troll for Hail Eris!

Demon Prince of Absurdity
Looney Maroon nominee for August 2006 Johnny D Wentzky foamed:
"You never asked someone who goes into areas of the internet that are only for adults who has an underage id somehow or another if they are a cop posing as an underage person online?
I guess lots of people just don't watch dateline or read stories much.
Why don;t you go to pervertedjustice,com and see what they do. They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they lied to membners of the public.
They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they posed as an underage person and agreed to do all sorts of sex acts wioth adult males, and they are adults posing as teenager themselves. They make themsleves into liars by falsely impersonating underage persons and by not fuilfilling the words they tell the victims online in their chats.
Why don't you read it where they tell these victims of their deceit about how they have been with grown men and such? Why don't you read it where they say, "That would be cool." after someone makes an advance towards an adult who is posing as a teenager? And, where they agree to meet the person, etc.
Lost control, didn't you?
Is that why you feel as if you need to lie so much now? I see where lots of these false impersonation games are not sticking. They feel as if they can lie and then order the victims to get counseling in the gayblade, governmental, pro-choice tax leech counseling centers. They are doing nothing more than usury and fraud in many cases." -- Wentzky

Hey slow code you didn't even comment on my idea to qsy to cw. I didn't think you would. You probably can't cpy ur own name at 5 wpm! LOL (hence "slow code")

AND for those who don't want the simple easy to pass ham ticket, blanket license 25.000 through 27.995 for what ever, just limit the power to something where nothing was bothered or the op couldn't hurt themselves easily.

Well, just because he said Kevin might call the police on 'im again doesn't mean he lied about being contacted by the police! Of course not.
Just like he's never lied about making any death thweat calls to Kevin except for the several that Kevin recorded and put online.

BWHAHAHAHA Rabbits also reproduce quite a bit, unlike eunuchs like you who still watch cartoons because that is the highest limit of your level of comprehension. And your sodomizing of your shemale sex partner doesn't count.

Fantasise much, Woger? Did I say I was watching those cartoons? Why, no, I don't think I did. I used to watch them a lot, but I watch much less TV than I used to.

You have a peculiar definition of "whining", Wiseman. Does my vocabulary bother you very much?

Poooor, Pooor, Dr Death. LOL

You were hoping the K00k's would make RRAP unbearable to get even with Roger, steve and Mark for all the RRCB pollution, but Markie put the k00k's to sleep. Maybe you could see if the UFFies will help you attack RRAP now. The k00k's failed.

Hilarious.

CB'ers can't do anything right.

Did you know that alt.snuh is part of the Intergalactic Golden Swollen Killfile?

Since k00koligists have deemed moi alt.snuh (yes, I'm a newsgroup - even for AUK a pretty good stretch), it's verboten for you to be chatting with me, Outer Filthï¿½.

Not kosher, Pedey. Only the current FNVW can post a ballot.

Is their a major lost of interest in the k00k awards? That seems to be the case.

Do tell what language that would be, no code cartoon character.

That would be, "I heard dat, I did."
Or, "Ten-Roger, Good Buddy."

Maybe even, "Often imitated, never duplicated."
or...
"There he goes, causing hate and discontent".
or...
"Roger Dee" and "Rodney Dee" and...
"Forty-Two"
.......and ya gotta turn on the echo box and Roger Beep for, "I heard that, I did. I'm on the double nickel and watching for smokey."

And the best? The one the local CB hillbillies like the most? "Shame on the mess."

Did that answer your question? 10-4????

Wiseman did what he always does. He lives in the sewer and as such brings

The God of Odd Statements
Stupidity Takes Its Toll. Please Have Exact Change.
Please remember to vote Outer Filth John Harrington, "James C. Cracked", and "Ward Hardmanure"/"Pete"/<wfh_jr> for KotM, CotM, CNotM, and the Special Ops Cody Memorial Award!
Thread where outing begins: http://tinyurl.com/hojf8
Also vote Ward Hardmanure for Order of the Holey Sockpuppet!
For the July/August ballot coming early September to a newsgroup near you
George Pickett Memorial Award nominee <wfh_jr@hotmail.com> on outing personal contact info in x-poasted subject lines:

"Plenty of people post under their real names and do not attempt to hide their contact info. You are scared of being 'outed' because you are a pathological abuser of usenet, and people rightly despise you for it. You're afraid of being reported to the authorities or, better, visited by a couple of guys with baseball bats. Other people don't have this obsessive fear. Ward Hardman himself has posted plenty of personal information - nothing that anyone else added was hidden in any way. You're so fucking scared you've built up this whole sick mythology about different categories of bad dudes who 'out' scum like you.

"Meanwhile you are the ugliest pigfucker in the universe. You are the coward without ethics. You call me a 'newbie' - ha! what an asshole you are. Those who want to remain anonymous do so. There is absolutely no way you could identify me, not unless you had the sort of subpoena power that only gets turned on for big-time terrorists. That's because I chose to be anonymous. Some people don't. Only really stupid dicks like you choose the sort of semi-anonymity which leaves you in constant fear.

"What a dickless wonder you are 'Snarky' you fat asshole."

I just wish that all these HAM RADIO ASS-HOLES would go back to jamming each other on their stupid ham radio frequencies with their obsolete radios and their big antennas. That's about the only thing they are good for anyway, apart from looking like old fat obsolete geeks with all those antennas on their cars and their stupid walkie-talkies which can only do 1/10th what my Nextel can do any day of the week..

I don't think it's an accident that rec.radio.amateur.policy is up for a Busted Urinal in either August or September (depending on whether Hawk's second of the nomination stands, or Daev's does). Your description of the group's regs is probably pretty accurate, given their usual output on usenet...

Nominations so far for Civility Awards

These are ALL nominations (no filtering has or will be done) for the Civility Awards that I've received so far. There's still plenty of time to nominate others. Votes for write-ins and "none of the above" will also be accepted. Nominations or votes that I can't find or are submitted after the first midnight GMT of 14 September cannot be accepted.

I want to connect a mobile CB radio to a power supply in the garage.

My question: Is it possible to use my Wilson 1000 as a type of "base station" antenna or will I have to purchase an antenna designed just for base station use?

Any tips and info will be greatly appreciated.

You could, but it would require a ground plane so large and cumbersome that it would not be easy to remove the antenna to use it mobile again. You will also get better performance from a base antenna.

Thread where outing begins: http://tinyurl.com/hojf8
Also vote Ward Hardmanure for Order of the Holey Sockpuppet!
For the July/August ballot coming early September to a newsgroup near you George Pickett Memorial Award nominee <wfh_jr@hotmail.com> on outing personal contact info in x-poasted subject lines:
"Plenty of people post under their real names and do not attempt to hide their contact info. You are scared of being 'outed' because you are a pathological abuser of usenet, and people rightly despise you for it. You're afraid of being reported to the authorities or, better, visited by a couple of guys with baseball bats. Other people don't have this obsessive fear. Ward Hardman himself has posted plenty of personal information - nothing that anyone else added was hidden in any way.

You're so fucking scared you've built up this whole sick mythology about different categories of bad dudes who 'out' scum like you.

"Meanwhile you are the ugliest pigfucker in the universe. You are the coward without ethics. You call me a 'newbie' - ha! what an asshole you are. Those who want to remain anonymous do so. There is absolutely no way you could identify me, not unless you had the sort of subpoena power that only gets turned on for big-time terrorists. That's because I chose to be anonymous. Some people don't. Only really stupid dicks like you choose the sort of semi-anonymity which leaves you in constant fear.

Hypocrisy is the issue (saying one thing, doing the opposite), not anal sex. Though, of course, straight couples have anal sex, too. Far more than do gay couples...

Hail Eris!

It's here at last! The combined July & August ballot has arrived, and the top awards have some classic races. On the ballot for Kook of the Month are: Daryl Hunt, Jamie Baillie, Warhol, and the Outer Filth Trio (Note: "Ward Hardman" on this ballot universally refers to his frogger, <wfh_jr@hotmail/yahoo>). The latter KotM nominees are up for a grand total of six awards, including KotM, CotM, CNotM, SOCMA, Palmjob Paddle, and OotHS -- way to go, Outer Filth! Meanwhile, the Looney Maroon Award has even more nominees: Andrew B. Chung, Dustin Cook, sPammy Russell, Gene Ray (aka teslacoils), John Wentzky, Kent Hovind, and the long-ignored "Nth Complexity". There are several close races this time, with Ray "Kazoo" Karczewski and Dave "Classic Tholenator" Tholen each contending for awards against strong opponents, including such "luminaries" as Dick "FreeSpeechStore" Scoville, Cletis "KKK" Perkins, and Mark "gte help"/"kb9rqz"/"Pee-Wee Slap-Happy" Morgan.

Now, on with the voting! [Note: Whining about the cross-poasting will be taken as an open invitation to continue said cross-poasting, which will then do so until morale improves.]

Please don't tell me you trailer your bike to events. If you can't ride there you shouldn't go. I've been thinking about making bumper stickers that say "I tailored my bike to.....". BTW, I'll be working Hog Rock in Cave in Rock, Il. next month. Look for the ONLY tattoo shop servicing the event.

LOL! Not all straight couples do that, of course, anymore than all gay ones. Consider this .sig before you vote, BTW, if it's not too late.

Looney Maroon nominee for August 2006 Johnny D Wentzky foamed:
"You never asked someone who goes into areas of the internet that are only for adults who has an underage id somehow or another if they are a cop posing as an underage person online?
I guess lots of people just don't watch dateline or read stories much. Why don;t you go to pervertedjustice,com and see what they do. They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they lied to membners of the public.
They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they posed as an underage person and agreed to do all sorts of sex acts wioth adult males, and they are adults posing as teenager themselves. They make themsleves into liars by falsely impersonating underage persons and by not fuilfilling the words they tell the victims online in their chats. Why don't you read it where they tell these victims of their deceit about how they have been with grown men and such? Why don't you read it where they say, "That would be cool." after someone makes an advance towards an adult who is posing as a teenager? And, where they agree to meet the person, etc.
Lost control, didn't you?
Is that why you feel as if you need to lie so much now? I see where lots of these false impersonation games are not sticking. They feel as if they can lie and then order the victims to get counseling in the gayblade, governmental, pro-choice tax leech counseling centers. They are doing nothing more than usury and fraud in many cases." -- Wentzky almost comes out of the closet as a pedo/ephebophile in MID: <H%%Eg.28916$Uq1.22411@bignews6.bellsouth.net>

There are a great many meowers, and very few of you. You are notable for being an extremely boring and impertinent mission poster (as witness your snecking of AUK and the nose, as well as RRAP), which is one well-known type of k00k, and you are now being held accountable to Teh Court of MEOW. Your mission is a failure, and RRAP will be occupied for the foreseeable future, until such a time as we(tinw) see fit to leave the group alone. This may or may not mean RRAP will receive the famous "smoking crater" treatment, but be assured that such remains a possibility.

> rather like the condiction suffered NOW by Wisemen

You've gone on about him so much that I think he may (co-)own you -- _especially_ if, as has been mentioned, he hasn't posted since 2000. You would be wise to drop the subject of Woger. Particularly if you don't win the GK.

You can use a Wilson 1000 as a base antenna IF you put a car sized ground plane under it, although four 8.6 foot radials would work as well. A full size antenna will gather more signal.

Ever hear of the second harmonic? Not only is the field strength of your fundamental signal regulated, so are all of its harmonics. The FCC monitors regularly check harmonic radiation out, and I think you will get cited for that one too, which I think is kewl. And then there are the local CBers who use channels 12 and 13 who are hearing your harmonic splatter. They won't wait for official action; they'll come and visit you themselves.

Hi DD,
The difference between them and I is that I ride from where I trailer. Our ride today is starting out in Sacramento, through the gold country, up the sierra's, through Tahoe, back down through the Sierra foothills into Sacramento, est. mileage will be 368 miles.
Look at the mileage on those trailer bikes and you'll see 1000 maybe 2000 miles, after today mine will have over 40,000 miles so I do ride a lot.

Landshark

PS, I'll be at Street Vibrations in Reno at the end of the month, now other than Sturgis it one of the next biggest.

Hello Drifter:

Yeah what they said!

I had a local who placed the magnetic mount Wilson 1000 on his Swap Cooler, that of course had a lot of metal for a ground plane. He had to add on a coax extension, and ran barefoot. But was able to converse with all the locals, and make the coffee shop get 2 gethers on time. It surly isn't a skip shootin antenna.

One nut cake ran a Wilson 1000 on his refregrator, and a Palmar Skipper 300 Linear. This was a TVI and all kinds of Interference looking for a place to happen. He lived in a apartment house, and was soon evicted. Probably for not listening to Jay in the Mojave! (Oh Brother!)

You're so fucking scared you've built up this whole sick mythology about different categories of bad dudes who 'out' scum like you.

"Meanwhile you are the ugliest pigfucker in the universe. You are the coward without ethics. You call me a 'newbie' - ha! what an asshole you are. Those who want to remain anonymous do so. There is absolutely no way you could identify me, not unless you had the sort of subpoena power that only gets turned on for big-time terrorists. That's because I chose to be anonymous. Some people don't. Only really stupid dicks like you choose the sort of semi-anonymity which leaves you in constant fear.

Which is more than stevieboy could ever do. Steveo will always be stuck to operating illegally because he couldn't pass the amateur exam even if he tried.

For that careless comment cadet Hagar you are demoted back to the rank of junior cadet 2nd grade. Officer Bohne I'll have you know is one of the finest net respected Science Team Officers, 1st Bridge Assistant Commander, good loyal friend, and next in line to assume total command of the entire Earth Star Science Team. If you wish to make rank hold your tongue and respect your senior Officers least you wind-up like Saul and the sidewalk guy, banished, ridiculed, or stowfiled and bending over for them.

Steveo has no life other than to stalk people and their children. He should be castrated and sent to live in prison with the rest of the lowlife degenerates.

Steveo makes other prison sex offenders look like choir boys. I don't think he needs to be castrated though - he already said his wife uses sex toys because he cannot get it up.

Is it so hard for you to think Steveo is capable of this? Not me. From his emails and attempted stalking so far, I believe every word of it. His behavior is catching up with him, even here in usenet. You are one who has condoned his behavior as well, so why act so shocked now?

What sickens me is how you are playing this out in this group.Granted I am not the netcop in this NG,nor do I wanna be,but I do have an opinion.And the bullshit trap that you are falling into,via playing your little fued out amongst us Browns fans in this NG,is pretty stupid of you in my opinion.Why cant you just ignore it and it will go away???

But the real kicker is how you have alligned yourself with a known social misfit by the name of Scott Gilbert,who posts under the Mopey Dopey handle.He is,by some accounts,one of the more detestable vagrants that infest USENET.
If you dont beleive me,do a Google Groups search under his name and see what kind of garbage he is reesponsible for.
Cmon man,other than your tirades against Steveo,you otherwise contribute to this NG somewhat.

If you wanna see some real NG feuding....check out some of my fueds with BrownsBasher.Now there is some good stuff there.. just search google groups for

"BrownsBasher Lil greggie"
I drove that dude insane without resorting to childish ranting.

Mopey Dopey, by his own admission, went to Doug's house, rang the doorbell, and ran away as fast as he could to hide behind a car across the street. That's real courage, alright. The guy is a child stalking pervert.

Jay is one of the only people that posts on topic, he is always helpful, and he's a hell of a nice guy. You truly showed your yellow streak when you trolled Jay.

American Girls and American Guys
We'll always stand up and salute
We'll always recognize
When we see Old Glory Flying
There's a lot of men dead
So we can sleep in peace at night
When we lay down our head

My daddy served in the army
Where he lost his right eye
But he flew a flag out in our yard
Until the day that he died
He wanted my mother, my brother, my sister and me
To grow up and live happy
In the land of the free.

Now this nation that I love
Has fallen under attack
A mighty sucker punch came flyin' in From somewhere in the back Soon as we could see clearly Through our big black eye Man, we lit up your world
Like the 4th of July

Hey Uncle Sam
Put your name at the top of his list
And the Statue of Liberty
Started shakin' her fist
And the eagle will fly
Man, it's gonna be hell
When you hear Mother Freedom
Start ringin' her bell
And it feels like the whole wide world is raining down on you
Brought to you Courtesy of the Red White and Blue

Justice will be served
And the battle will rage
This big dog will fight
When you rattle his cage
And you'll be sorry that you messed with The U.S. of A.
'Cause we'll put a boot in your ass
It's the American way

Hey Uncle Sam
Put your name at the top of his list
And the Statue of Liberty
Started shakin' her fist
And the eagle will fly
When you hear Mother Freedom
Start ringin' her bell
And it feels like the whole wide world is raining down on you

Ah yes, the tricked out Harleys with the yuppies riding them. The very same yuppies you read about in the paper t-boning the sides of cars, when the cars don't see them and turn in front of them. With bikes, experience is everything.

Interesting. In a subsequent post, you use the following:

"Lots of inbreeding going on in the morsemen ranks."

"I wonder where Jimmy Noserve is hiding?"

"Jimmie Noserve showed up with his bimonthly Numbers (his period on?)"

"Robeson showed up wondering who "Robesin" is..."

"Well, Robesin IS a PRETENDER to be sure..."

You blew in here after a lengthy absence and immediately began ad hominem attacks and denigration. You're a wind bag, Len, and you aren't a participant in amateur radio.

Mom gets photos of son missing for 24 years
POSTED: 10:13 p.m. EDT, September 1, 2006

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) -- The mother of a boy abducted 24 years ago said she's bewildered by two photographs left at her front door, apparently showing her son and two other children bound and gagged.

The old photos appear to show 12-year-old Johnny Gosch with his mouth gagged and his hands and feet tied. The boy is wearing the same sweat pants Johnny was wearing when he disappeared while delivering newspapers on the morning of September 5, 1982, his mother said.

"It's like reliving it," Noreen Gosch told The Associated Press on Thursday night. "But the bigger picture is, 'Why are they doing this?'

If you have a freezer or washer in your garage just slap the wilson 1000 on top of it and it should work pretty good but not as good as a proper base antena up in the air.

Does your garage have a metal roof? If so, plop it down on top of the garage, and run a wire from the roof of the garage down to a grounding rod in the yard, or a METAL cold water pipe in the garage/house (as long as it's metal all the way out to the yard!) Any point that is grounded would work, though I'd avoid using the ground in an outlet; you really don't want it hooked into the household wiring, even despite the fact that a lot places use the cold water pipes for ground... The antenna will perform, but not nearly as well as a proper base antenna...

Don't let facts get in the way of your harassment of Steveo. Doug is not a child (even if he acts like one). Post his admission where he stated what you claim.

NECA code says that if you can't use a ground rod, you can use the copper water pipe where it enters the house from the outside. I believe it must be attached within the first 3 feet, but that could vary from city to city.

I had the intention of forcing doug to say any one of the vile things he's posted to or about me over the last 3 or 4 years, when I dove to his and Lelands house. Thinking back, it wasn't the smartest thing I ever did...but damnit' I enjoyed it all the way home!!! <efg> I drove to his house, rang his doorbell, and went back to my car and took pictures. He came to the door with a BB gun. I should post the pictures for rec.radio.cb.

At any rate, that fuckstick is just working a rise out of you and me.
He'd -never- meet you in person, unless he had the law waiting for you.
Please keep poking him tho..I appreciate your timely barbs. :-)

ps. let me know if you want some company if you ever go there..road trip

It is quiet, but at least the posts are usually CB related.
The topic of post figures was only just mentioned and, as I said on that group, I would rather have the quiet group with on-topic posts than a busy one where 90% of posts are just troll and spammer crap.

With so many of the posts to this group being angry troll posts, I only get a list of messages and then download those of interest. I refuse to waste bandwidth on those dumb enough to display their stupidity to the World.

I also have a filter, so many troll and spam posts don't even get listed.

Regards,

Peter.

Answer the question, Alexa. What does your k'lame of a defunct agency have to do with "Quantum Potential Weaponry To Spy On CIA Posting On The Internet"? How does something that doesn't exist anymore "spy on 'internet' posting"?

Mark, it's your mis-spelled babble that is the assult on the groups. You want ham radio to be just as screwed up as CB. Why? You can't upgrade any other way? Learn CW, give up CB, enjoy ham radio.

I tried to help you, lots of other people have tried to help you too, but you refuse to change. You were made for CB, not ham radio.

The real problem is that the pre-amps don't accomplish anything. They are just a gimmick since they are unable to improve the signal-to-noise ratio. All they do is boost everything... noise and all... LOL

You certainly can do this... but you will need a ground plane for the antenna radiator to work against. This could be something as simple as perhaps a 3'x3' piece of sheetmetal underneath the antenna. If you have a magnet mount... you can just plunk the antenna on. If you have have a trunk lip mount, you'll have to connect the lip mount to the sheetmetal via braid. Remember to keep the antenna near the center of the metal mass for best omni-directional results. Hope that helps...

3' X 3', huh Brian? At 27Mhz? Is this some sort of magic sheetmetal with superior RF characteristics you've patented? Glad to see you are not building antennas.

Until you out personal contact info. Then it turns into stalking, Filth.
Just like the Outer Filth Trio of rmcr, you decided terrorism was just the thing for you. Not that you were effective, of course, but that's really not the point -- you tried. That you're a fuckup is simply a given.

"I retaliated the way people like me know how," -- that really says it all. As Rhonda said, behaving this way is exactly what you would do. Nice self-spank, there.

So what? You think that means no one can see any of this thread? Don't count on it.

Yes, we know you're a coward, just like Harrington and his little buddies/socks. They raved a lot, too.

No, it means you attempted to destroy someone. You are nothing but Outer Filth, and that is all you will ever be, now. Be certain of that.

Delusions noted.

TEH WAY OF THE K00K
Never learn from your mistakes.
Always practice your mistakes; you may get them right.
Always pick on those smarter and tougher than you.
Always believe that only you know the TRVTH.
Never allow logic or reason get in the way of a good k00k.
When being overwhelmed by logic and reason: k00ksuit!
If you are going to be wrong, do it at the top of your lungs.
When caught in a lie: LIE!
When in doubt: Order the Crab Won Ton
Plagiarism is your friend. Use it.
Whenever contradicted; morph, start calling people names, and make false accusations. Include the children of your target in your allegations, even if they don't have any.
(06-Jun-05) When nobody else will listen, post to your own fan group.

(06-Jun-05) Obviously, since you have your own fan group, this must mean that you have fans. Post prolifically to your fan group - you wouldn't want to disappoint them!
(10-May-2005)Everyone reads usenet. Approval here means approval everywhere.
Post numerous blank posts, or posts containing only a message id.
Post numerous copy&paste web articles from crackerpot websites.
Never forget to call kookologists "k00ks."
If there are several, call them "sockpuppets" too
When all else fails, accuse various and sundry kookologists of e-mailing viruses to you. This is a sure-fire method of garnering sympathy and ensuring that the General Public will always see things your way. An especially effective sub-strategy here is to accuse them of infecting you with the 'Sasser' worm via e-mail.
Quote notorious scientists or writers - it makes it look as if they approve the drivel you are writing!
(9-Jul-05) Anytime your computer is infected with a virus, bogged down by spyware, attacked over your internet connection, or otherwise suffers from preventable problems, government agencies are responsible and are trying to silence you and are monitoring your computer files.
Ignore all traffic signs and feel free to trespass, you don't have to obey any rules.
Scare your enemies with lawsuits, police escorts and whines.
Always back up your empty (albeit noisy) threats with phony LARTs, false police reports, and harassing letters to the FBI and other gubbermint agencies.
Be vigilant in your redundancy. The more you repeat yourself, the more likely others will believe you!
If you can't find anyone as crazy as yourself to support you in the flamewars you start with the normal population, create sock puppets and use anonymous remailers that shamelessly hang on every word you write.
(17-Mar-05) When dealing with law enforcement, remember that it is they who have the problem, not you. Be sure to inform them of this at every available opportunity, as they will surely appreciate your constructive criticism. Be sure to make them aware that YOU KNOW YOUR RIGHTS! ("The cops like that, when people know their rights. That way they don't have to read them to you on the way to the station." - George Carlin)
The more your fake personalities adulate you, the more respect you'll get!
When confronted with a reality that you don't like: Announce loudly that you are departing, never to return as long as there's an Internet. Come back in three or four days and claim you were drunk, hacked, abducted by alience, or forged. Alternately you can just not even mention your prior departure, and if anyone asks you about it, either ignore them or respond with something along the lines of "YOUR NOT THE BOSS OF ME! PLONK!" People really know you mean business then.
Always remain clueproof.
(20-Mar-05) Anyone who does not believe that you are the reincarnation of [$DIETY_OR_PROPHET] is obviously an infidel lacking in faith whose soul in in peril of everlasting damnation.

When responding to one line challenges, post paragraphs of rants and screed in response.
Incoherency is not a roadblock to poasting.
Neither is illiteracy.
Delusions poasted often enough become fact.
Claim you will destroy <insert newsfroup> for attacking you.
When spnaked, send cmsg for Fanboi newsfroup(s).
Find your Lame, Use your Lame, Be your Lame!
Post Edit when the TRVTH hurts.
Always sneck the offending newsfroups.
Always poast pictures of yourself so you can be admired in all your k00ky glory.
Always accuse others of the very acts you are guilty of.
Post lots of boasts about your high IQ and incredible talents.
(20-Mar-05) If you repeat a lie often enough, it becomes the truth.
Anybody who fails to understand this is engaged in a deliberate campaign of misinformation and character assassination.
Always <plonk> somebody just before replying the plonkee!
The k00k considers itself the most intelligent person in any conversation, possibly on the planet. Other people are benighted and ignorant, and have been waiting their whole lives for the k00k to rescue them from intellectual darkness.
Write a self-published book and claim it a success. Bonus points for comparing it to "Mein Kampf" and/or the Bible.
Declare yourself equal to a deity of your choice.
Claim that you've come from other planets.
Claim thousands of past lives.
Frothing complaints carry far more weight when you send them from "legal@" some domain.
Nothing strikes terror into the hearts of your detractors more than telling them that you're archiving their messages for possible use in the future.
Never forget that everyone else posting to Usenet is a paid disinformation agent looking to discredit you.
Usenet is governed by US law. If a poster in Romania killfiles you, he's obviously violating your 1st Amendment rights and can be sued.
Every news admin in the world hangs out in NANAU, and they're just dying to nuke the account of that meanyhead who just called you "fucknozzle".
Drop 'em a line - that's what they're there for, after all.
AUK will be closed down. Just you wait and see.
They've nuked hundreds of accounts in the name of free speech and yours will be next.
The k00k will, without any trace of irony, lie, manipulate, impersonate, censor, and declare themselves powerful in ways ranging from the ability to have an account shut down to being God Herself, in order to convince people that they are not liars, manipulators, censors, or insane.
Abuse women while telling how many hundreds you've loved. Nevermind that you're one ugly motherfucker and that there were 30,000 femininas that thought you were a scumbag with bad teeth.
Remember that your ko0ky klaims are 'facts', and that 'facts' do not require proof.

Do not neglect to poast your responses to forums that the originator doesn't read. This will make the people in that forum very impressed with how you tear him to shreds without him being able to respond. They like it even better if you are off-topic for that forum.
Keep in mind that lack of evidence supporting your konspiracy theory actually _is_ evidence, of how effective the konspiracy is in hiding.
(06-Oct-05) When spanked, always retreat to the safety of the Ad Hominem.
(04-Aug-2005) When spanked mercilessly for days on end, proving with each poast just what an illiterate and ignorant fool you are, ALWAYS claim ownership of [person(s),froup(s)]. This works on so many levels. It inspires dread in your opponents that they will no longer be able to poast in their home froup and that they will eventually have to pay rent, to name just two.
Any problems with your poasts are the fault of the konspirators, who are trying to stop you from preventing the extinction of humanity.
Konspiracies that are able to subvert whole governments are always unable to silence konspiracy ko0ks.
The entire United States government is willing to spend millions of dollars for the sole purpose of harassing you.
Hollywood is making movies based on your personal life.
Do not consult psychiatrists or other mental health professionals. They are part of the konspiracy, and will sedate you and lock you away and keep you drugged if you tell them the truth.
Numerology and Astrology are respectable sciences and are useful for proving your case.
Everyone is Tim Hill, or David Green, or...
There is a fine line between trolling and kookery. Find that line and cross it repeatedly. When you are killfiled and/or LARTed for net.abuse as a result, claim victory. If you lose multiple accounts, this merely proves that you are indeed a world-class troll, with a black-belt in manipulation.
If you respond to every post someone else makes, they're obsessed. If they respond to less than 1% of your posts, they're even more obsessed.
Publishing people's real names, addresses, and phone numbers when there's no other way for you to come out of a flamewar with any dignity is cool, and proves that you are a master of secret internet information stores, and absolutely not to be fucked with.
Everyone is out to get you. You can put a stop to this by telling everyone that they're out to get you at every available opportunity.
You are the only sane one.
Those that give you a hard time about morally bankrupt things you yourself admit to are just persecutioners of the new inquisition.
Yelling in all caps and cursing at your detractors is debate. Your detractors laughing at you with sarcastic remarks is obvious anger and jealousy.
If doing something results in the loss of your account, legal hassles, or blunt trauma injury, do it again. It always works better the second time.

Asterisks, lots and lots of Asterisks.
Poking holes in kookscreed is stalking, and is a felony.
K00ks LOVE to "connect the dots". They are, of course, dots that only the k00k can see.
"They laughed at Einstein, too!"

I HAVE JUST FOUND A VIDEO OF THE ARCHTYPE
OLD FART HAM RADIO OPERATOR.

THIS IS THE REAL DEAL FOLKS !!!
I MEAN IT - YOU HAVE GOT TO SEE THIS FOR YOURSELF.....

HERE: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BAXEkJEw4KM

THIS GUY IS THE EMBOLDENED ENCAPSULATION OF EVERY DIRTY STINKING HAM OP THAT I'VE EVER SEEN AT A HAMFEST.
(I JUST WISH I HAD THE GUY IN THE VIDEO'S CALLSIGN - PROLLY FROM 4 OR 5 LAND NO DOUBT........)

"Enjoy! Ya've earned it! - (as we used to say on 14.313) personal contact info was long put out in RRAP by the very party that troled you into RRAP we call him "woger" becuase it is belived he Roger Wismen but wether he is or not. hehas posted the personal contact info of people like myself his various other foes on RRAP and those of my family my neaighoors the possible former owners of my proerty even put out the addresses of other with htreats of actionagainst them just because they share my name

you folks are doing the wil here in RRAP of a gay bashing stlaking

You could at least preview your copy and check the spelling, you know.
OMFGss, that was hard to read.

> you folks are doing the wil here in RRAP of a gay bashing stlaking
> bbigot

No, we(tinw) are not, as it happens. Each kookologist in AUK is solely responsible for his or her own actions, and we(tinw) do no one(tinno) else's bidding. You earned the Golden Killfile nom based solely on your own boring, net.KKKopping output, not because PJR is just mean (he's actually a cool guy, and very funny), just as the entire group earned a BU nom based on /its/ output. Your group is a cesspit of usenet, and if some admin were to rmgroup it, all of perhaps two or three people would mourn its passing, not counting such vermin as Wabbit.

> I do hope you are happy about that

I really couldn't give a shit about your pissant group. Its regulars deserve to have someone stalk them down and kill them for being pathetic, homophobic wastes of space, speaking generally (DrDeath is definitely not counted, and Woger or his frogger certainly is), but as long as you're all posting there anyway, you might as well provide AUK with what few laughs are available from you, before you all jointly win the GK (which may take a few years) and are declared to be as net.dead as alt.snuh.

This is actually not correct.
A good pre-amp would have bit better s/n ratio then the set it is used with.
I have experiemented a lot in the long ago past with different configurations for pre-amps, like transistor, MOSFET, FET, cascode etc...
Best I could come up with was 2 junction FETS in cascode.....
Maybe these days there are better solutions.
But I received the world on a little wire with SSB.
So, your next project: A good low S/N ratio pre-amp?
Probably not.
Maybe you were using your power amp as pre-amp?

I want more (Nominations for Civility Awards)

More nominations, and a slight change. The awards suggested by Potter have been gender-balanced.

These are ALL nominations (no filtering has or will be done) for the Civility Awards that I've received so far. There's still plenty of time to nominate others. Votes for write-ins and "none of the above" will also be accepted. Nominations or votes that I can't find or are submitted after the first midnight GMT of 14 September cannot be accepted.

Hi SA.

I just got back into town this afternoon and wasn't surprised to see what a mess mopey-dopey (Scott Gilbert), and JDWILD have turned this group into.

What a way for those two degenerates to spend their holiday weekend.

I've set a filter for mopey dopey (http://www.teranews.com) and trashed everything in that thread - unread.

What a pathetic fuckstain.

They seem to work fine for FM reception. I can get St.Louis radio stations with the one I have hooked to the rooftop ant.
I'm not sure about results with AM/SSB CB, except I have worked weak stations at night with no background noise and it made plenty of difference.
With a lot of background noise most cheap preamps increase the noise along with the signal. A unit with some selectivity as to what you can filter out of the amplified signal would be ideal, but probably not monetarily feasible.

Don't think a pre-amp like that is worth anything without some type of additional circuitry to discern noise from signal... and that's not easy to do. All you're doing there is compensating for a poor receiver.

That's a pretty pathetic troll on your part. Probably the most boring and unimaginative thing ever posted to Usenet.

To the Auk and AFA-B denizens: When someone is this boring should I play the killfile game and make him nym shift constantly? Or do we have some sort of award I can nominate him for. None of the awards I saw on the web page seemed to fit his boring childlike trolling of me.

Golden Killfile

Given to the most killfile-worthy net.kooks on Usenet. This award recognizes exceptional killfilable merit; if you are unworthy enough to be ignored by everyone on the face of the earth, you are eligible for this award.

That's a damn good impression of a Klansman - about the right level of spelling, grammar, and punctuation ability, not to mention the (lack of) ability to articulate a coherent thought. How many beers did you have to kill first?

Indeed. Saw them here in Cleve-O right before I went to Atlanta. Hell of a night.

Actually, the entire car is used as a ground plane. Why do you think 1/4 wave ground planes have 9' radials? Just to make them look cool? By your theory, they could get by with 3' radials.

Suggested reading for Brian:
http://www.google.com/search?hl=en&q=Basic+antenna+theory

Just a start, not intended to all inclusive. You should probably stick to trying to improve the Skywave until you understand BASIC antenna theory. At this point, you don't have a clue. Build an antenna and do some experimenting before you give bad advice.

He can't afford beer working in the Jiffy Lube. He runs a still behind his house (shack). Momma's in the kitchen, pregnant, making possum and gravy for supper.

Not a problem.
It is possible to carefully position your car so that you can stick the magmount on the trunk...

A base type is better, as it will get greater distances, but any CB antenna can be used as a base antenna.

If you use a mobile type, it must be placed on a ground plane. This ground plane could be solid metal, but could be a few metal rods or stretched out wire.
More radials is better, and thicker wire would be better than thin.

If you make a ground plane with a stud mount in the middle, a mobile antenna could be swapped between the car and base mounts - but remember not to leave it out there when not in use - they are easily removed by a passing scumbag.

It is also possible to make your own antenna from wire. A dipole makes a reasonable antenna at a very low cost, and is easily mounted or hung from something.

Peter.

This is not an Amateur newsgroup. Those who come here are either here to discuss CB, spam the group or Troll.

I come to this group for CB messages. If I wanted Amateur or professional topics, I would look in the associated groups.
Of all the groups I use, this is the worst for off-topic posts, Trolls and hate messages. The amount of crap is making this group unusable.

No, Local 257 covers an extremly large area in mid Missouri. We also don't work on jobs in other union ares unless it's a disaster situation.

Was it the Unholy Alliance tour with Lamb of God, Children of Bodom, Mastodon, and Thine Eyes Bleed? I got in free (connections are priceless) and stayed the entire show in the middle squashed against the barricade.

I would like to see more technically related issues, even when posting about ham radio. Unfortunately I have to agree, the NG is a trash pit. I'll be the first to admit, I'm not helping matters any by replying to and even instigating my fair share.

Now watch the kOOk/trolls attack my post.

Make sure you use some grease if you want to swap it back and forth as the threads could get rusted. I have a 102" whip that I am trying to reuse with the same problem. It's soaking in liquid wrench at the moment.

The Antron.

Brian is absolutely correct, a receive preamp won't accomplish much of anything unless your radio's front end is messed up, or you are using it with a low-tech or homebrew receiver.

The best way to improve signal-to-noise ratio is to use a better antenna. As an added bonus, it will also improve your transmit range.

I'm sad to report that Russell B is gone, sniff. He left us some time after January 1st (his last post ever, sniff). He went to "New York" for some kind of "anti-Bush" convention, and he never returned.
At least he died doing what he loved: protesting "Bush," his favourite passtime. He was my best friend and (to use a negro colloquialism) my "brother." God rest his soul.

Well, the purpose of a pre-amp _____ I S _____ fixing a poor receiver.
If your receiver already has a top noise figure, and the pre-amp the same,
it will not help , see what I wrote above:
<self quote>
A good pre-amp would have bit better s/n ratio then the set it is used with.
<end self quote>

If you are sucked up in the ignition noise of your hair dryer or whatever, then it will not help either.
Ad Dr Death already pointed out, it DOES help if the band is sort of clean.

I had all stages tunable, (tried both with varicaps and real rotary caps), you need a high Q (I used heavy silver plated coils), very good antenna matching, so you get maximum input signal (I used an input transformer), and lowest noise figure FETS or whatever you can get.
The cost is practically nothing (maybe less then 50$ parts).
There are some more tricks like feedback you can use to get better Q.
You only need 3.5kHz bandwidth at 27MHz for SSB, and, as B = f0 / Q, a Q of 27000000 / 3500 = 7714 should be the limit.
Not easy to get there !, but with feedback.......
Tuning it becomes a problem.... lots of knobs....
Did not use _that_ much feedback, basically keep the loading on the input LC minimal.

A next project for you?
That was 1970 ties. What one could do with modern tech.

I'll echo Sharon on this. He seems rather boring, but not especially ko0ky. Simple antagonism, flaming or arguing isn't enough to merit attention for the sake of awards. Shoot, even Bartlo would fade away if not for his ko0ky obsession with his PSet Litses.

As a piece of advice, a ko0k's ko0kiness should only be evoked, not created or simulated. Have you ever heard of the Formosa Rule?
(Not that Slow Code seems to be a candidate for the Formosa, as yet.)

Morning DD. A favour please.....Could you stop cross posting to AUK? Not only does RRCB not need any more trolls, but I'm sure these other groups don't need them either.

Welcome to RRAP Mr Death. I'm glad you've finally decided to come to a group where the people have brains.

I knew you had a major Hard-on for RRAP. With all the trolling you've done on Mark in policy over the years it was easy to see, but now you have come out of the closet and finally, openly admit it. You really should try to curb your Mark Morgan fetish though or I might have to nominate you for 'CB'er with the Biggest Hard-on for a Ham radio group poster' award. Welcome again to RRAP and try not to to squirt anyone while you're Pumping.

Yes, you're probably right... but the question is do you really need more area than that. The answer is "it depends". It depends on what type of radiation pattern you're looking for. The bigger the plane underneath the antenna... the lower the angle of radiation. The 3'X3' piece will work... but may not give as low a radiation angle as a larger surface.

Yea, right, bit different style, well I did design my own 1/2 kW, it did its purpose....
But to put you _out_ of business your would fist have to be _in_ business.
So fix it up a bit, nice LCD display, some buttons, microprocessor, selftest, real cooling with an internal fan -nobody wants such a big block of alu-, add ice and coffee buuton, the works.

Mr Hyde? what are you blabbering about?
You had suggestions, many, by several people, including me, you did nothing with it, now you want us to do a complete cost effective design for you?
And -cost effective_ is not worth beans, 'he who saves on parts will not reach moon' (old Chinese saying hehe).
Why not sell it as a tea warmer or coffee cup warmer?

And, on the bright side (for you) there are people who eat cost-effective at Mc Donalds, there are also people who fly to Paris for a good meal (not in McD there).

No you had your help.

530. Bio-TERROR in America: The Government of Torture!

AMERICA IN DANGER of its own out-of-control Bio-Terror:
Is 1984 here? God help us, blinded!
Originally Secret Bio-Aerosols are misused to HARM and Torture in U.S.A.

Our government needs TORTURE in U.S.? See details below...
It has your VOTE, support? Abused...

CRITICS (political/social/cultural) are harassed and secretly persecuted along with their KIDS in schools/colleges, especially, during tests/exams (Think: Guantanamo "stress-positions" in the context of 1984-technologies)

Bio-Aerosols and aerosolized chemicals are used to cause:
- severe colds/coughs turning into bronchitis, eye irritation
- bacterial pneumonia/other pneumonia, shortness of breath
- surges of severe headaches, migraines, dizziness, etc.
- fainting collapses by symptoms-mimicking aerosols
- severe stomach pains (sharp, burning, nausea, etc)
- chest-wall pains, heart-muscle inflammations/trauma, etc.
WORSE:
- heart attacks under cover of second-hand smocking
- car crashes/accidents by Vertigo-causing aerosols
- liver/organ failure by small-dose toxins (trace-less?)
- cancer-causing/facilitating - months-long assasinations
This "Yushchenko syndrom" CAN destabilize NATIONs Waste, Fraud, Cronism and Abuse in HomeSec/FBI

U.S. mail IS polluted in "anthrax-like" manner to HARM critics Libraries, airplanes, hotels, offices, buses, trains - all polluted!

A network of Secret Gas-Aerosol Rooms operated in US
(in Philadelphia, Narberth, Lower Merion, PA)
(in Wilmington and Newark, DE)
(in Hampton, Williamsburg and Richmond, VA)
AND ELSEWHERE.... details below...
Bio-aerosols used to hurt and simulate panic attacks, etc.!
Soviets locked critics into nut-houses, now WE do the same!
Symptoms-mimicking aerosols do HARM, weak or ill people.

Say "Stop, I care" - call Senate (202) 224-3121
House of Representatives (202) 225-3121
What IS going on in America? Print and Post

Fabrication of Fear to grab Power by Fabrication of Believable Info

Big Brother spins protection...
And fear is used to clamp.

Full text was at:
http://buyit.philly.com/findit/search/results.jsp?catId=krd_philenqda...

This was a new on-line ad placed in Philadelphia Inquirer and Philadelphia Daily News on www.philly.com (see full text below)
It was about the secret aerosols rooms in US. One could find it by searching "secret", say, in the ad section of philly.com.

Democracy can not function effectively without the informed public. As a former NASA Langley scientist working in the area of nanotechnology and nanoscale particles, I have been recently exposed to the establishment of secret gas-aerosol rooms inside of United States, at least in the Mid-Atlantic region (from Philadelphia to Virginia).
First, the highly irritant aerosols have surfaced at the NASA Langley Research Center in several safety accidents. Investigations were blocked, probably, because of lack of Congressional approval for such financially-lucrative research at NASA. Later, these aerosols had been encountered outside of NASA in Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania
This points out to yet another proliferation of originally-sensitive technologies into domestic American life to hurt and harass people without a proper oversight and much control. This amounts to torture, extra-judicial prosecution and authoritarian intimidation tactics. The use of such irritants and the operations of the secret gas-aerosol rooms are gross violations of human and constitutional rights of American citizens and various domestic and international laws.

------------------Full text of an ad from Philadelphia's philly.com------------------------- TORTURE IN USA: Secret Aerosol Rooms
US Scientist needs legal help dealing with the secret aerosols rooms (SARs) operated illegally in Philadelphia area, Newark (DE), Hampton and Williamsburg (VA). Highly volatile aerosols with and without bacterial content cause dry cough, airways and eyes irritation, chest pain and inflammation. FBI and Homeland Security associates are likely operators of SARs, while collaborators may be hotel staff and landlords, who get financial/material or other incentives. US citizens and kids are victims.

Torture is any act by which severe pain, whether physical or psychological, is intentionally inflicted on a person as a means of intimidation, deterrence, revenge, punishment, sadism, or information gathering. At times, medicine and medical practitioners have been drawn into the ranks of torturers, either to judge what victims can endure, to apply treatments which will enhance torture, or as torturers in their own right. http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Torture

America in Danger!

America in danger -
The vice is NOT impeached.
America in danger -
The public trust is breached.

Not as of yet... just got fired last night. Expect the performance to be equal or better than the existing SkyWave 2879AB amp. The specs are available at http://www.telstar-electronics.com/SkyWave%202879AB.pdf
I have much more testing to do before this product is released sometime in late October.

Hey, I know this is CB territory, but the activity is high and you guys know this stuff.

Want to hook up a nice high antenna to allow us to keep in contact with the kids up at the cabin. I understand height is almost everything but I can't find a cheap 5 wattish radio that has a antenna mount and power supply. Is there one?

I expect the antenna/cable to cost about $200. ??

I also assume, that with an elevated antenna, I'll need a GMRS license.

Any comments welcome. Thanks

Hello Danwa1456:

Look up the Murs Radio Service, on Google or what ever search engine ya got.

It has 5 VHF frequencies, with no FCC license needed, allowed low power use, of 2 watts. But the 2 watts works well with good antennas. We get 30 to 40 miles on Murs base stations here in the Mojave Desert.

I went Quail Hunting and we got 3 to 5 miles with no problem over different locations and such, with the low cost modified 2 meter hand held radios on low power.

I carry a extra battery when hunting. And have a 12 volt cigarette adapter that will charge the hand held radios while in the truck drive to a hunting location, or charge them over night in the truck.

GMRS we tried and didn't like the short range that came with these cheap shit mass produced goof ball radios.

The VHF radios will cost more but will work much better. I picked up a few used older VHF hand held radios from the local Motorola Commercial Radio Dealer for real cheap. Extra batteries, antennas, and chargers. Also on E-bay.

I have the kid tear up the local ecology on his dirt bike, he carries a VHF Hand Held Radio, and I can keep track of him and his friends with a base radio, using just a few watts.

It's not Markies fault. The towns people thought his place was the local landfill and they have been dumping their trash on his property for three straight years now. Mark enjoys it because he doesn't have to go dumpster diving anymore and he can spend more time on the internet pissing people off.

I agree with you Watchman.

I wish the Dr Death and his friends would stop trolling RRAP. Now they got the k00ks trolling too. It's seems to get worse when 11 meters is dead and they need somewhere else to cause hate and discontent, so they show up in RRAP and tease Markie. They tease him because Markie is a CB'er gifted with a ham license, and since they're not smart enough to earn one they troll the group. Sad.

You can ignore Markies request for information on how it works on the ham

I've seen the insides of a lot of low cost amps and the construction on that

Yah, Right Markie, like your dumb ass has priviledges for the HF ham bands. Not!

Learn CW!!

You're welcome. My pleasure.

Heard any good Belches and Farts on your CB lately? Nothing like a good loud Fart on the Childrens Band to get the conversations going.

Why do you talk filthy that Mark? Are you just trying to impress people in the CB group? Why can't you and Roger ever talk about radio?

Learn CW Mark. Be more than just a CB'er with VHF/UHF amateur priviledges.

yeah still down as i decided to get rid of all the zinc coated nuts, bolts & washers on the jogunn and go with stainless. gonna wait till spring to put it up as i have to figure out how to run the coax, either above ground or not.

You can build a ground plane, which would be small at that frequency. The problem with GMRS and FRS (I use FRS), is that foilage greatly reduces range. I get greater range after the leaves fall in late Oct and Nov.

Northern pine forest. Was hoping a nice, very high, antenna at the cabin could work in this environment. We have pines, some of the largest pines around, and if I could figure out how to get up there, we could get an antenna
"over" the tops of all the trees in the area. If not, then I'd put it on top of a two story barn.

Hello Danwa1465:

Yeah a VHF Base Antenna could be mounted on a mast, and put into a tree. You want to get the antenna above the tree. Use LMR 400 Flex Coax.

They make VHF or UHF Base Station Antennas so that they can be assembled to what every frequency you want. I have a cheapie that cost about 60 dollars tuned for the Murs channels, and works great. Antenna is reasonable like weight, about 9 feet long, so its would be easy to put in a tree. HRO or AES can help you out with what ever antenna you need.

Again I suggest you look into the Murs radio service.

I have made VHF Base Station Antennas that can take several thousands watts for the 2 meter band. But you don't need any of that heavy metal hardware.

Good, I am happy to hear that, even the most simple thing you can buy here has these thermal fuses, all AC/DC adapters, any coffee machine, heater, almost anything.

I dunno any of your design parameters, but say if your heat sink is 1.5 degrees Celsius per Watt, your transistors .5, and you run 80 W dissipation, the junction temp would be 160 above environment.
If somebody has it in a car with sun on the roof, chances are you cook the 'pils'.
Even a 60 cent one time thermal fuse... so much nicer to replace then 2 transistors.
So I am looking forward to seeing such a feature.

SWR is of course good to have too, my old antenna did behave bad in storms, the new one is OK, but I still have an audible alarm and red LED on the SWR meter :-).
Automatic would be better.

583. Problems with Cobra 148GTL CB radio

I have a Cobra 148GTL AM/SSB citizen's band radio that appears to be fairly old (made in Taiwan) and has the following problems:

(1) Despite what LED channel indicator shows, the receiver doesn't change frequency.

(2) When I push the mic push-to-talk button, no signal is transmitted and the receive/transmit (RX/TX) light remains green (receive mode).

(3) When I first got the rig, it did transmit and change receive channels, but on frequencies above the CB band.

I suspect the problem is in the frequency synthesis phase-locked loop or related circuitry. Did a capacitor failed after being uncharged for years?

I thought I'd ask newsgroup readers for any insight before I charge in with my oscilloscope and soldering iron. Perhaps some of you encountered similar problems with this unit and can suggest a good starting point diagnosis and repair.

The first thing that I would check would be your B-supplies. They have an IC that supplies seperate DC sources for receive and transmit. Some of your issues seem may point to one of those sources being dead. As for your capacitor comment... electrolytic capacitors these days (and even in the recent past) have an electrolyte and containment design that is very reliable. Don't spend too much time thinking along those lines. Hope that helps...

Well, you know, whenever it happens, like maybe 2030 or 2040. I have a lot mockery to do.

Introducing the President Bush Radio.
Ready to go...
Simply apply 120 volts AC (or higher), and watch it launch missiles, kill civillians, rob the needy, and raise gas prices all in one simple push of a button. Guaranteed to influence people all over the world, even if they hate its power.

We'll pay you $100 to take the president Bush off our hands, as long as you promise to take it out of America within 24 hours of purchase.

I agree. I had a minor emergency recently (was almost out of gas), I hollared on channel 9 for awhile and got no one. I went to channel 19 and within a minute was told where the nearest gas station was, and the guy even offerred to follow me in case I actually ran out. He was ahead of me, so I told him to just keep talking to me, and I'd see if I could make the station. I made it, and thanked him for the help.

Cool! It's good to see when CB and in particular, channel 19 can actually be a good resource. If I'm in an unfamiliar area I run 19 and can generally find my way around. A lot of people put down CB as a waste of time and channel 19 is viewed as an unusable channel due to the amount of people that use it to chit chat, but I've found most people are quite helpful. Thanks for sharing your positive experience.

Stop it! Now I feel guilty because I didn't get my tower up before I had this latest surgery :-( On another note, just bought a sweet 79 Chevy 4x4 long bed. Soon as the knee heals I'm going to swap out some parts from the camo 86, to the 79, and put a 49 Chevy cab on the 86.

Who knows. The radio has been "tweaked" by someone who clearly didn't know what they were doing. The problem could be just a cold solder joint, the core in the oscillator coil could be cracked, your PLL chip could be fried..... it's a big list of possibilities.

You can either spend time time and effort to restore and de-mod the radio, or take the more practical route and just buy a new one.

Are you quite sure about that? He posted poetry to rec.arts.poems last both of them apparently very large, both of them poets, both of them pizza delivery drivers, both of them buddies with Dockery, Bishop, &

I have a couple of HR-2510s that were working fine when they were put the shelf, but now neither one of them are working. One transmits won't receive the other one is locked on one frequency and won't change to another frequency. Both of these radios worked fine but have been setting on the shelf for a couple of years. Anyone know of a common problem to this model that might have caused both radios to fail?

Hello Steveo:

Back in the 60's and 70's, and even before the CB radio craze sweep the country, we always use to go to the Long Beach CB Breaks, that was held at some big park.

They had country singers and bands brought in by the bus load. They had outside business's come in and run the various Bars, prepare the food many different types of food. Clean up crew, magic show for the kids, and even Valley Parking, real La Tee Da stuff.

They had country, folk and rock music by different bands and such. You could even buy these guys on a 8 Track Cassette tape. I still have a few.

They had a Johnny Cash look a like there that did the Man in Black pretty good. The ol man bought a bunch of the tapes and we where now country and western music fans. I remember driven down to Long Beach from the San Fernando Valley listening to the Best of Jonney Cash and others. Yeah I wish I had seen him in concert!

I meet "Gettie up and Go, a local Country Western Singer that had a old Johnson Valiant driving a 2 kW linear into stacked Moonraker 4 Beam Antennas. When "Gettie up and Go" got all liquiored up, he would plug his electric guitar into the radio and sing and yodel. Most all of southern california was shut down listening to "Gettie up and Go"

He did a fine job signing Mary Robins "El Paso"

There are local drive in's that have oldie but goodie night, great food, super good looking cars and trucks, all kinds of music, and a lot fine ladies running around. Oh yeah!

Hello CM:

Yeah I have the same problem with my 2510. After setting a while it gets stupid, and needs the buttons pushed and the dial moved at times.

I sometimes push the lock button on the radio, and will not respond to the buttons. Make sure the mic PTT button is not in the transmit position.

Hope this helps.

Hey Jay
an old problem with the freqs not changing was rectified by installing star washers under the screws holding down the main pcb. i have the '2510 bible' down in the radio room and i'll see if there is any more on the subject as well as the no receive problem for CM.

Hi Jay.

Yeah Gettie up and Go was almost an anthem back in those daze, eight tracks and reel to reel. I got to see Eric Carmen and the raspberries at Edgewater park in 1969 for free and that was long before the CB boom..hardly anyone knew what a CB radio was back then.

I had my Lafayette and my droopy drawers tuned, along with the 108 inch whip on dads car though. We still laugh about the noises that thing would make as it smashed into tree limbs and such.

You seem bored, Steve Parks. Not getting enough attention at home in Medina Ohio? If you didn't kill your daughter; you might have had something to do on weekends, eh? Is your wife that horrible to be around? Why did you really drown your daughter in DDT, anyway? Nobody on Usenet believes your story about it being a "crop duster accident". Nobody has ever even heard of such an absurdity.

You're talking about "Russell B. Waters," a regular poster in rec.arts.poems. I'm talking about "Russell B" (no last name), a regular poster in alt.tv.real-world and alt.punk. THEY ARE DIFFERENT PEOPLE!!!!!!! RUSSELL B WAS MY BEST FRIEND AND HE'S DEAD NOW. I SERIOUSLY DOUBT I WOULD BE BEST FRIENDS WITH SOME KIND OF POETRY "WUSS" (NO OFFENSE TO THOSE PEOPLE, THOUGH).

Too late, Markie you already tripped yourself up in the previous post and admitted you were on the list.

"Russell B." was "Russell B. Waters", and was known to have posted as such to RAP, using the <huskydustyrusty> addy, as well as the other. Really, I don't think Russell B. is dead...

Oh, you would be _amazed_! That's partly why I accumulated all the titles (the other part being that it's fun). I took the nick on in 1990, and a decade or so later began adding on a bunch of titles, some of them given, others taken.

Over 3 million hits, but that's including adjectival uses.

Classic unsubstantiated and erroneous presupposition, laced with invective, as is expected from someone with no logical argument --

You seem obsessed with his failure to be a red-blooded manly man/sockpuppeteer like yourself. Why is that, I wonder?

what is realy amusing is that He does nt mind the fact that Robesin has claimed to have been somdoized by a man and if it is anot all right for me it should not be alright for Robeson

I don't like Homophobes but even worse than Homophobes are thoose the use gay bashing selctively for own ends. I can respect a homophobe that is consistant and honest about it but these hypocrites

This alleged classic unsubstantiated and erroneous presupposition, laced with invective, as is expected from someone with no logical argument, comes to no surprise -- plonk

That's a very good idea, y'know? Just FYI, everyone who's only now seeing this thread, the above has not been post-edited one little bit, apart from the removal of previously quoted material by K-Man.

"Plenty of people post under their real names and do not attempt to hide their contact info. You are scared of being 'outed' because you are a pathological abuser of usenet, and people rightly despise you for it. You're afraid of being reported to the authorities or, better, visited by a couple of guys with baseball bats. Other people don't have this obsessive fear. Ward Hardman himself has posted plenty of personal information - nothing that anyone else added was hidden in any way. You're so fucking scared you've built up this whole sick mythology about different categories of bad dudes who 'out' scum like you.

"Meanwhile you are the ugliest pigfucker in the universe. You are the coward without ethics. You call me a 'newbie' - ha! what an asshole you are. Those who want to remain anonymous do so. There is absolutely no way you could identify me, not unless you had the sort of subpoena power that only gets turned on for big-time terrorists. That's because I chose to be anonymous. Some people don't. Only really stupid dicks like you choose the sort of semi-anonymity which leaves you in constant fear.

"What a dickless wonder you are 'Snarky' you fat asshole."

The Cordell Press, Inc.
presents
Memoir of a Radio God
By Glenn A. Baxter, P.E.., K1MAN

Chapter 1
A "Star" is Born?
or Aren't We All "Stars?"
or
The Happiest Day of My Life

It was the happiest day of my life. It was also the scariest. I remember the day well.* I had won the "lottery." I became a brand new human baby. It was 5:42 A.M. on March 9, 1942. I was eager to get this new show on the road. I was all tangled up in the darn umbilical cord, but that didn't seem to bother me at all. I couldn't breath when I came out of my groggy mom. That DID bother me! I was blue. I was ugly. My ears were flapped over. The doctor struggled and got me untangled. They hustled my mother away as they frantically struggled to save my precious little life. All life is precious! It was touch and go for quite a while.

Meanwhile my Mom, Marion Watson Baxter, from Swan Quarter, North Carolina, was hustled out of the delivery room at St. Agnes Hospital in White Plains, New York.

"Where is my son," she demanded in her 'drunken' stooper?

She had been drugged pretty hard to make my arrival and complications as painless as possible.

"Oh, we are cleaning him up," a nurse replied.

My mom was a Registered Nurse (with almost no time yet as a practicing nurse).

"Oh don't be ridiculous" she slurred through the pain killing drugs!"

Back in the delivery room, I seemed to be OK. No brain damage, I speculate, just a few loose screws, as anyone who knows me will agree.

"Boy, that was close!" I thought as I cried up a storm.

Finally, after what seemed forever, the Irish nurse brought me in to see my mom. My mother acted as though she had just had a couple of Manhattans. What did I know?

When she first held me tenderly (I liked that) she cried and said:

"How will I ever learn to love him? He is so ugly!"

Now THAT is ugly! I thought:

"Hey mom, you ain't seen 'nothin' yet! I will nestle into your heart and be a joy unto your life! And a pain in the you know where! I 'got' plans!"

Mom fed me and then it was time to go out with the rest of the kids in that awful room. What a noise they all made.

"What a bunch of babies," I thought!

Then my dad came to the window. Another Irish nurse picked me up. She pointed to me, and then to him, and mouthed:

"He looks just like you!"

My dad grinned and gave her the "monkey sign." You know, he thumbed his nose. She was quite indignant and stamped her foot.

"Hey, I like this spunky lady," I thought, "Already I have people sticking up for me. And that guy, my dad, great sense of humor! Look at him. Dirty old man (he was 50)! He loves me already! I think I am going to like it around here!"

My dad died when I was 16. He was making love to my mom. He had just served her breakfast in bed, as was his usual routine. He had just told her that she had been the best wife he could possibly have. He said he didn't think he would ever get any closer to heaven than he was at that moment. It was a beautiful morning (August 31, 1958), only ten feet from the water on Great Pond in Belgrade Lakes, Maine. I was in the next room, sound asleep. My older sister Carol was in her bedroom sound asleep. My oldest sister Betty and her husband, George Sternad, and their kids, Shelley and Kenny, were in the Guest House, all sound asleep.

I was awakened when I heard George on the phone out in the living room:

"Hello Dr. Adams? This is George Sternad. Mr. Baxter died about fifteen minutes ago."

Remember the scene in the movie Dr. Chivago when Yuri watches as they start to throw dirt on his mother's coffin? That is exactly how I felt. KaBam! I slipped out the lake front screen door of my room and went out to the shop, a separate building. I needed to think. I needed to be alone for a few minutes. George came into the shop and put his hand on my shoulder. He said:

"You are the man of the family now." I Started to cry.

My mom was a basket case. Dr. Adams and his wife Frieda came over. They were neighbors. I had palled around with their Tom boy daughter Nancy and her best friend Ann (who I was in love with) for years. I thought the Adams' showing up like that was pretty classy. They all came over for dinner later that evening. My sister was to be off to Northwestern as a freshman, and I was to be off to Vermont Academy as a Junior. Things had settled down a bit as we all faced our lives ahead without Frank H. Baxter. He was a good man, a good father, a good husband, and he was my best friend. He pushed me fairly hard. I pushed back somewhat. I knew what was good for me, though. I needed to be pushed; I believe all kids need to be pushed. Carol, my older sister feels this was cruel. Not so! My dad gave us both plenty of "wiggle room," however. When he died, my mom became my best friend. When she died, my wife Bonnie became my best friend.

He took the whole summer off, starting when I was 9, and we worked on projects together. I would run around and get tools for him, and we had a ball. He loved me, and I loved him.

My first year at Vermont Academy started out as a disaster. I was an academic derelict. I was a scholastic "street person." I began to come alive the Spring of my freshman year, however. If I made honors in my sophomore year, my dad agreed to buy me a new $695 Collins 75A-4 amateur radio receiver. That was the Rolls Royce of radios, and in 1958, $695 was a lot of money. I missed honors, but not by all that much.

Was I spoiled? Yes. Was I lucky? Yes! Am I dysfunctional? Yes! One time I went to a shrink. He, then, had to go to a shrink. I was sent BOTH bills! Life can be so unfair! Am I crazy? No!

Ask any one of my teachers. They will tell you! Ask any one of my employers. Ask my angel and loving wife Bonnie. Ask Walter Cronkite, the most trusted American. He knows me well. They will all tell you the same thing. Glenn Baxter is a piece of work. I suspect that all of us are a piece of work, only I freely admit it! I have some great friends and some bitter (and very powerful) enemies. I am trying to love my enemies. I hereby forgive them all for any nasty things they may have done. I wish to be forgiven for the nasty things I have done. I am truly sorry.

Every human being (even dogs and cats) are products of their genes and their environments. Being loved and wanted makes a big difference. All things make a big difference.

For example. My dad feels romantic on 9 June 1941 (nine months before I was born). Pearl Harbor has not happened yet. My mom is agreeable to some romance. Maybe it was her idea. No, it probably WAS her idea. OK. All set to go. Glenn Baxter, K1MAN, is about to get his big chance. BUT! The phone rings. Wrong number. Glenn Baxter doesn't happen. K1MAN get assigned to someone else! His brother or sister get to be the next and last child in the Frank and Marion Baxter family, not even a ham!. Chance. Roll of the dice. Dr. Albert Einstein (my middle name is Albert, after Dr. Einstein) says that God doesn't play with dice. I disagree. One wrong number, and I would not be here. 14.275, 3.890, and 3.975 would be the same old stuff on amateur radio. No "illegal"(1) broadcasting, etc., etc.

Think about yourself. Suppose it was the sperm right next to you and not your sperm. Would it be YOU here reading this? No. At best, it would be your sister or brother. You would not exist. You would never exist. You had one chance and only one chance AND you made it.

Think about it like this. 111,000 thousand fans in Michigan stadium, "The Big House." One thin dime dropped out of a plane at 40,000 feet lands in the stadium the night before the big game. Who finds the dime? It was you, lucky you!

Whenever I see a new baby at the super market or somewhere else, I usually lean down and say:

"Well, how do you like life so far?

The mom usually says something like:

"Well he (or she) likes it just fine!"

Life is really precious, from the smallest spider (or even smaller) to the largest whale.

The bible says

"I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day that I have given you a choice; life or death. The blessing or the curse. Therefore choose life, so thou mayest LIVE, thou and thy seed."

I chose life. It was scary. It still is scary.

Choosing life, without hesitation, I decided that it was time to get on with it. I was on my way to becoming a "star," at least for a few brief moments. Every dog has his day, and I was destined to have mine.

"Now, how do I try and charm Carol, my youngest sister? My oldest sister is away at college; she will be putty in my tiny hands. But Carol? She might not like having competition over there at 31 Claremont Road, Scarsdale, New York. I think I will just play 'dumb' and try the good old 'just be a happy baby' approach. That might, just might, work."

Every day is the happiest day of my life.

* Actually I don't remember anything at all. This account is how I know I would have been thinking and assuming I could think at all at that time. My brain cells were all there, and some of the standard "programming" was working quite well, but it was like a new house with all the wiring in place but no "connections" made yet. The lights were on, but nobody was home, so to speak. I do know that I was loved.

 Actually, I didn't have a clue what I was doing. I was on "auto pilot" and was just going along with the flow. But I was loved, and you could take that to the bank.

(1) There are many Radio Amateurs in the United States and abroad who are of the totally wrong opinion that my daily call-in Amateur Radio Talk program, heard world wide on the short wave frequencies of 3.890 MHz., 3.975 MHz., and 14.275 MHz., 365 days per year since 1987, through July 4, 2005 was "illegal." It was the only short wave radio program of its kind and has never been attempted before or again by anyone.

Not necessarily gay just incredibly stupid. It was one of the worst TV series of all time, with wretched writing and horrendous "acting." Set back the cause of the undead a thousand years.

Results 1 - 100 of about 72,600 for kadaitcha man. (0.18 seconds)

http://www.google.com/search?client=opera&rls=en&q=kadaitcha+man&sourceid=opera&num=100&ie=utf-8&oe=utf-8

For some reason, adding "[definition]" to the search string gave only 2,440 results.

Anyway. Which deity?

Based on what?... LOL Your posts... and the ridiculous electronic conclusions you seem to arrive at.
or do your extensive qualifications prohibit you from giving that...

Everyone has their breaking point.
When you put in the effort to turn this group into something useful by posting on-topic, technical messages - only to see people continue arguing and trolling - the most patient can reach their breaking point.

It is sad that it comes to that, people who make an effort feeling like it is all pointless.
How many other genuine people have gone from this group because of the trolling and fighting... how many more will go before the genuine people of the group see what is happening?

Peter.

Or maybe he is just p1ssed off with all the petty arguments.

Do the group Trolls not give you enough arguments?
Maybe it's true what Voob said... if he goes you simply argue amongst yourselves.

There's no good reason why there should not be technical posts on the group. CB radios need fitting, tuning, reparing, etc just like any radio equipment.

Dr. Death likes Steve Parks because they apparently share a hatred for Blacks and Jews. I am sure Dr. Death also approves of how Steve Parks tries to put young children at risk. Birds of a feather flock together.

WTF is wrong with you Mark?? You crave that much attention that you have to change your screen nic? If you use the excuse that Google only allows so many posts, well if with some 20 different screen nics you have the need to get some new screen nics, you indeed are a sick person.
Your fans don't kill file you, but most other normal people do and have no f'ing desire to see your delusional ramblings.

nope explanined may time

if you don't want to read something don't read it grow up but with a name like landshark expecting you to show any matruity is too much for you

757. why does lankshark support harrassment of posters?

why does Landshark wxpwct people to tolerate being libeled in public with without response?

why does he throw a fit if he sees a single post posted by someone defending themselves at least today he did not choose to start anothe r of his own threaten and harrass threads

it would be nice if he grew up but I doubt he can like Dr death and Freda and Tom Uknow who they are too cowardly to say that support gay bashing whih they do they just think the basshed have no recourse

h elikely will not read this but you never know the tolerance of the gay bashing posts is why the THIS NG and (and others) are in the sad state they are in

To learn the technical TRUTH about CB Radio without all the hype from people who are just plain ignorant, check out the following books from CBC International. They're selling right now at a big discounts on our EBAY & AMAZON stores too.

Check it out!

To see exactly what these books look like, plus all the specific, chapter-by-chapter details, see our Web at:

www.cbcintl.com

BOOK #1: THE "SCREWDRIVER EXPERT'S" GUIDE To Peaking Out & Repairing CB Radios. List $25. The most popular "big dummy's" guide ever published on do-it-yourself CB repairs & modifications. Covers peaking of receivers, transmitters, modulation, mike problems, antenna & SWR problems, detailed frequency modifications for both crystal & PLL radios. Loaded with charts, illustrations, and specific instructions for most brands including the new export models. This latest edition also covers slider and broadbanding tricks, FM conversions, and much more!

BOOK #2: THE CB PLL DATA BOOK. List $20. The only complete reference source on CB PLL synthesizer circuits ever published! Detailed PLL theory explained in layman's terms. How they work, and how to modify them for many more channels. Includes specific PLL block mixing diagrams, truth charts, & IC pin function diagrams for nearly every PLL chip ever used. Covers all the most popular U.S. & export chassis, with specific listings of all models using the chip.

BOOK #3: UNDERSTANDING & REPAIRING CB RADIOS. List $42. Giant 370-page technical book for the professional repairman. Picks up where the "SCREWDRIVER EXPERT'S" GUIDE leaves off. Includes circuit descriptions & troubleshooting guide for 23- & 40-Ch., crystal & PLL, solid-state & tube, AM, FM, SSB, CW, American & export models. Covers test equipment (& where to find it), transistor basics, synthesizers, receivers, transmitters, power supplies, T/R switching, antennas, interference, parts & accessory sources. Over 350 illustrations including schematics, charts, and photos. Huge subject index also lets you look up repairs by symptoms. This is "must" reading for any serious CB technician!

For details on our Galaxy-Ranger Service Manual (2nd Ed.) go to:

Uh, no, I double-checked him a long time ago, and it's him.

Ok--I solved the problem with the radio!

Yes, it had been modified. Someone grounded pin 10 of the PPL chip and fiddled with the VCO for above-band operation. I removed the jumper on pin 10 and then used a frequency counter to realign the VCO. Also, the output power was a bit high, so I adjusted the modulation circuit to make it operate at the legal limits for AM and SSB.

Thanks for the advice. It was helpful.

right double d, i'd like to go underground but have to wait until the new inground pool goes in. as far as the cable, i had what i think was belden 2519 rigid, i'm probably wrong with the number, no matter as i've worked a shed load of countries.

"However, these criteria, admirable as they are, are insufficient for a liberatory postmodern science: they liberate human beings from the tyranny of 'absolute truth' and 'objective reality', but not necessarily from the tyranny of other human beings. In Andrew Ross' words, we need a science 'that will be publicly answerable and of some service to progressive interests.'" -- A.D.S.

What's a "PPL chip?" A popcorn popping loop? Why do I get the feeling that you're just blowing smoke in an attempt to impress someone?

Also, modifying the freqency or power determining circuits of such type-accepted equipment automatically makes it illegal to use on CB.
Way to go.

You must be a relative of mine. I love getting in the FCC's face, because they're afraid of me. Crank your power up to 100 watts, move to 22 meters, and blast away. Nobody will touch you because I said so.

Instead of unbalancing your balanced modulator (and thus defeating two of the benefits of SSB), why not run a key line along side the coax?
After all, you gotta connect the two with coax anyway, right? Just use the external speaker jack to route it out the radio. Or, if the extra wire is too expensive, how about modifying the radio to superimpose a DC keying signal onto the coax that can be detected by the amp? Even better, and since most amps are mounted close to the radio, how about including a couple mic jacks in the amp; one for the mic and the other for a patch cable between the amp and the radio's mic jack? The latter could even be used with the hard-line remote keying system mentioned earlier.

All are much better solutions than detuning the radio.

Sure, use the mike connector, I have this interface anyways for packet radio (digital), cost only 3 connectors and 1 meter wire.
But then he needs different connectors for different types of sets.
And it takes some soldering.
Could sell it as : Adapter, gold plated? adapters is big business.....

Well I think that anyways after I have seen a gold plated audio cable for 100$ in a shop here ;-)

The original poster probably meant a PLL - a phase locked loop - something you didn't even notice, Expert Boy. But you don't put a typical, synthesized VFO on a new frequency by simply doing something to a PLL. You have to modify the divider / multiplier circuitry which takes its input from one or more crystal controlled oscillators. In addition, you'd probably need to change one of the crystals if you were going to go really far out of band. Most CB "modders" don't do any of the above; they change the operation of a logic circuit (sometimes by removing a diode, but usually by replacing a chip) so that certain illegal frequencies can be dialed up in addition to the legal ones.

The original poster - just like you - didn't seem to know what he was talking about.

Now go away and flood some more, Murgatroid. It's the only expertise you have demonstrated in these newsgroups.

Well, finished the testing of the temperature compensated biasing on the new amplifier. It works as well as the original "hay-wired" prototype I first made. I think the cicuit is very repeatable. I was able to hold a 500mA collector current bias to +/-50mA from -30 to +85C. Without the compensation, the variance over that temperature range is about 4 to 5 Amps. I'm now in the process of evaluating the RF performance... and then some life testing. If anyone is curious... the preliminary specs are available for viewing at http://www.telstar-electronics.com/SkyWave%202879ABTC.pdf

Actually a well designed preamp will improve signal to noise performance. The real issue is that addign a preamp to a poorly designed receiver will dramatically lower the dynamic range of the first RF stage and mixer. Also at CB frequencies the usable sensitivity due to atmospheric noise is about 0.25 microvolt per meter. This is easily acheivable in even the poorest designed receiver.

No preamp can compensate for loss of signal in the coax or do to a poor antenna design/setup. Once lost, it is gone.

Serial numbers assigned by manufactueres may or may not have date of manufacture encoded in them. If this did then a possible dcecipher would be the 3217th unit from January of 1983. I am not saying this is correct but it is only one of several solutions.

Hello all!

I just recently joined up with a miata car club, and on the rallies with 50+ cars, I noticed many members had CB's. I hadn't seen CB radios since I was a kid, and Smokey and Bandit was on in the movie theaters.

Well, I got one, and installed it. I'm gonna be doing some hwy driving in the near future...and was wondering if the lingo (or what I can hazily remember of it) has changed. How are cops and radar referred to on the road?

Is channel 19 still the main channel to listen to on the road?

I'd had one friend of mine laugh and say that nowdays, you never say 'good buddy' to truckers today, or they'll get pissed.

I know a few of the old "10" codes...are those still in use?

Does anybody have any links or advice on these questions for an 'old' noob to CB.

Thank you and....Mr'. Wonderful's true identity is.....

<drum roll>

From FCC enforcement letter posted on ARRL's website...

March 21, 2002

Mr. Mark Hanson
217 N. 6th Avenue
Wausau, WI 54403

SUBJECT: Warning Notice--UNLICENSED RADIO OPERATION

Dear Mr. Hanson:

The Commission has information that you have been operating radio-transmitting equipment without a license on frequencies in the Amateur Radio Service bands.

Please be advised that operation of radio transmitting equipment without a license is a violation of Section 301 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. Section 301and will subject you to fine or imprisonment, as well as an in rem seizure of radio transmitting equipment, in cooperation with the United States Attorney for your jurisdiction. Fines for this violation normally range from $7,500 to $10,000.

You are requested to contact me at 717-338-2502 to discuss this matter.

Mark Hanson also has a minor criminal record in the state of Wisconsin which is searchable on the Internet at;

http://wcca.wicourts.gov

There is more than one Mark Hanson in Wisconsin with a criminal record. Check the address listed int the ARRL enforcement letter to match the correct Mark Hanson.

Mr. Wonderful was confronted on the air about his true identity and he disappeared from the airways for three weeks. Prior to that he had been on the air daily harassing everyone he could hear. Four weeks later he was back to his old tricks. He was confronted again and has not been on the air for two weeks and counting. He verified on the air he was the person in the enforcement letter. He was very angry that his name and address was being given out on the air.

I have been using this scheme for many years... and have other customers also running the multiplexed DC signal. I have never experienced... or heard of any issues with that arrangement from my customers. It works just fine and eliminates having to run additional wiring from the transmitter to amp for people that aren't satisfied with just using the COR switching.

The 10 code is still the same. Probably the main difference is the amount of people on the air has increased... along with the four-letter

Yup...had it on on the way to work this morning...heard MF a few times. Not that I don't use a lot of 'language', but, was strange to hear it so quickly just turning the radio on.

Not a lot of chatter I've heard yet...but, just installed it yesterday, and haven't hit the hwy yet.

Damn..some meanings HAVE changed. I've been looking up on the 'net...
It appears 'Good Buddy' == Gay lover now or something!!! hehehe...no wonder they get pissed at you for saying this now. I'd have never guessed it had this new meaning, if I'd not looked it up.

In the old days (last time I touched a CB), just meant friend....

Any other CB phrases that have changed 'drastically' like this one?

Thanks,

noonespecial

I don't normally recommend this to CB'ers because 99.9% of time, CB'ers screw up their radios when they take the covers off of them, and then they go to ham radio operators and ham newsgroups and whine for help.

Anyway, take the covers off and look at the componant side of the PC board. Look for chips. The PLL is one you will see the board, but look at other ones too. Normally on most chips, the date of manufacture is stamped on it. Two digit year number, then either two digit month number or week number. It gives a rough idea of how old the radio is and you know at least the radio was assembled sometime after the latest date you find on the chips. You also find a date on the PC board when the board was etched, the CB would have been manufactured sometime after that date.

I was wondering what you had meant my multiplexed. I've been to that with

You're welcome, My pleasure.

There's nothing like the sound of a good loud fart or belch on CB channel 19 to get the conversations going especially when they're broadcast over-modulated with echo and punctuated with a roger beep.

I have mixed feelings here. On the one hand, it's immensely satisfying to see Dickie get his just reward, but the Trio were just as deserving.

Don't know about the transmit, but the one licked on frequency could have a defective lock switch. I never use the frequency lock, so I don't know if it can go bad.

That would make you virtually unique on the Citizen's Band.

One of the reasons for the desirability of the classic 148GTL Sideband was the ability to crank up the output power and modulation depth by simply opening up a couple of pots.

Though this was not the official position of Cobra, I remember sitting in the service department when one of the techs told caller after caller how to make this adjustment.

Many that left the building for the personal use of staff had also been so adjusted.

Then again, the chief engineer had a Galaxy (complete with roger beep and reverb) with about 100 watts connected to a yagi on the roof at Cortland St, so liberties with the regs were not uncommon at Cobra.

Later models have been revised so such power adjustments were not simple to make.

The above band operation is new to me. Although I did work with someone, some years ago, who had modified an old Midland to work above the band, fiercely arguing her right to do so.

There was a crackdown in St Louis that year, and it was sternly explained unto her that she had been misinformed.

What exactly are you trying to accomplish by putting my children at risk?
For that matter; what do you hope to accomplish by putting other people's children at risk? You have already posted the names of 4 people in the hopes of bringing death or injury to their children. I don't know why you think I am going to get caught up in hitting you with a civil suit.
What would I sue you and get - your snow plow and some lawn mowers?
What you are doing is a felony, which is a criminal issue. Add to that the fact that your attempts to harm children in Georgia are also motivated by your anti-Semitism and homophobia. Hate crimes are taken seriously; and I suspect you desire to find that out the hard way.

Realign the VCO using a DMM, rather than a frequency counter.
Use the frequency counter when aligning the crystal oscillators.

As it had clearly been got at, I would take the time to check the frequency of each crystal oscillator and the carrier balance. Depending on which version of Cobra 148GTL you have, there could be a few crystals.
Even more important, check the output and drive bias settings. If these are not set correctly, the transistors may not last long.

Peter.

Hehehe...I guess maybe you're right. I've not been on USENET very much in a few years, I'm amazed at the amount of cruft and useless offtopic posts out there. Don't get me wrong, I've done my share of OT posts, and some crossposting...but, wow...I had no idea the levels were this bad today, on almost ALL groups.

I did, however, get to do my first 'smokey' report...so, felt good about that. I'm trying to figure out a handle for myself. And, this does look to be fun, especially with driving in groups with some friends.

I would have guessed CB 'traffic' would be pretty low these days...just the truckers out there. I rarely see any cars with antennas...so, is the situation that there are fewer CB'ers out there, but, a higher percentage of those there are morons?

Just curious, like I mentioned in other posts, I've not been on a CB since the late 70's...so, curious as to what is different out there.

Peter,

Thanks for the suggestions. Your advice is more constructive than some of the previous posts, some of which are little more than ad hominem techno-babble.

Actually, I used my oscilloscope and volt meter, as well as a frequency counter, to realign the VCO and other components. (In the interest of brevity, I didn't mention this or other details of the repair in my previous posts.) Also, I poked around the final output amp and modulation circuit, and found nothing notable, although I did elect to reduce the carrier level a bit.

Not a socialist, but a globalist. Of course, Republicans want to bring US wages down to that of the third world. Their goal is to turn the US into some third world shit hole, but live in guarded/gated communities.
Unfortunately, shit for brains vote for Republicans.

The historians argue if Bush or Grant is worse. Since I didn't live under Grant, I say Bush is the worst.

This post goes to show how little you truly know about CB. Your a CB poser who's only interest in the hobby is financial. Your post was an admission that you do not talk on CB. If you're getting hate and discontent on the CB as soon as you transmit, then you must have pissed off a lot of your local CBers.

These are Bell System or Western Electric parts. Pretty much any tool or part made for the Bell System had a KS number. Here's a web site that explains it:
http://www.ablepanasonic.com/telter.html

"Bell's actual hardware items (jacks, adapters, transformers, etc.) often carried a KS designation. KS stood for Kearney System, a parts numbering scheme developed for a Western Electric factory in Kearney, NJ. Even today, some common pieces of telecom hardware are marked with KS numbers. You might also find pieces of telecom gear with a ComCode, another Bell/Western Electric part number scheme. One 50-cent part can have a dozen different identifiers."

I actually like your updates. While I don't need an amplifier like that,
I know the enjoyment of building and testing you get doing it.

The parts, the PC board, the schematic, planning parts placement and layout, It's fun. :-)

I got an old piece of shit amp in the junk box, I should pull it out and

Yes, it's fun and you always learn something doing it. These guys like Frank and DrCoward are nothing but "spoilers"... and complain about everyone and everything.
It's sad that they don't show us some of there superior designs... and walk-the-walk so to speak. So far... they are definately back-seat

Actually, I have a ham license and haven't used a CB in over twenty years. I was merely servicing my sister-in-law's CB, and she's Well, I looked around inside and noticed that the PLL chip has "78 31" stamped on it. This could mean the IC was manufactured late in 1978, which is consistent with an earlier posting suggesting the rig was manufactured in January 1983. On the other hand, there's nothing stamped or etched on the PC board or on anything else inside the rig.

Yep, or he rips me for making an honest living with agriculture. He even asks for me now if I don't post every two days or so. It's actually just another excuse for him to post his CB linear spam everytime he hits send through his free google account. I'll sell more insect control this $eason than he'll ever sell in CB amplifiers in a lifetime. (or any year for that matter)

Easy. If the US bails from Iraq, regardless of why we went there in the first place, the entire American-hating world will see how the US can be defeated both at home and abroad. And if you don't think this "Iraq-and-a-hard-place" predicament was intentional then read up on the history of the Roosevelt administration.

If you can't take constructive criticism then you shouldn't be engaging people in a technical thread. Your the one that gets pissy when I make a technical post you don't agree with.

Jim you better watch out or Stevarino will get mad at you... LOL
The SkyWave has been optimized for 26-30MHz... although will certainly work below 26MHz. See the preliminary spec sheet at Constructive critisism... From you???

I don't even think you believe that...
Remember, those who can't do... criticize.

That's inconsistent with when I agreed with you on the thread regarding receive preamps. Not suprisingly, you used the opportunity to spam your amp in your reply.

I prefer to make money the old-fashioned way..... legally. But if you ever pass through Spokane then drop me an email, I'll give you a tour of the station where I worked and you can see some -real- RF power.

wether or not we should have invaded the results of the fighting in the streets of Bagdad will affect us it is surely drawing some folks that would have come here and as long as we have killed 20 terrists there rather than here we are imporving our kill ration vs 911

I would not go so far to say our safety depnds on that battle but if we lose or bail it affect greatly what we dneed to do in order to be safe here at home
